Rev. Kopf To Speak At Xmas Program

Rev. Carl H. Kopf, pastor of Mt. Vernon Church, Boston, will deliver a twenty-minute talk entitled, "Christmas in an Atomic Age," next Monday, December 17, in Room 10-250, from 4:00 P.M. to 4:45 P.M. This talk is under the sponsorship of the T.C.A. The remainder of the meeting will be devoted to singing Christmas carols under the leadership of Richard J. Steele, 2-46.

A drive for magazines and inexpensive editions of popular novels for patients at Homberg Infirmary is being conducted, letters being sent to all fraternities for this purpose.

Various articles will be sold in the T.C.A. office next Tuesday and Thursday, December 18 and 20. The proceeds from sales on the two days will go to the World Wide Mission Handicrafts Centre and the Russian Relief, respectively. Technology Debating Team Host To Tufts, Cushing

This afternoon, a Tufts College debating team will be the guests of Technology for a debate in Litchfield Lounge at 5:00 P.M. Edwin T. Bean, 2-46, and Herbert J. A freshman team will present the negative arguments against a Cushing Academy Team on the Subject, Resolved: That one year of military training be required of every physically fit male citizen of the United States between the ages of 18 and 24 inclusive.

Coeds' Christmas Affair Enlivened By Mistletoe Sprig

The Co-eds of the Institute held their Annual Christmas Tea in the Margaret Cheney Room last Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock, with over a hundred guests present.

The room was decorated to reflect the spirit of Christmas. A large evergreen tree, covered with tinsel and snow, occupied a prominent position against the center of the back wall. Underneath the evergreen boughs and among the branches were gifts for everyone. Another small item was a sprig of mistletoe hanging in the doorway between the room and the kitchen.

Everyone, in a mellow mood after drinking their tea, sang Christmas Carols. While the guests were relaxing between carols several appropriate musical numbers were rendered by Geraldine R. Sapolsky and Margaret I. Backer, both of 2-46. Another item which kept things moving was dancing to the music of better known name bands, at which time the co-ed's record player was used to advantage.

The refreshments were prepared by the girls themselves, and included such delicacies as sandwiches, cake, cookies and tea.

V-12 Holds Dance Tomorrow Night

Formal Dress Affair
At Hotel Commander

What will probably be the last dance of the M.I.T. V-12 Unit is to be held on Saturday, December 16, 9:00 P.M. at Hotel Commander in Cambridge. Chapple Arnold and his band will play.

Dress will be formal; however, the V-12ers will be in luck because corsages are not in the order of the evening. Also the Tech sailors will be fortunate as admission is free. The dance is being presented by the Navy welfare department.

175 To Attend

It is expected that the hop will be well attended. Approximately 175 couples are to be at the dance. Among the chaperones invited are Dean Thomas P. Pitre of M.I.T., and Captain Buracker and Lt. Commander Canfield of the V-12 Unit.

Students Fail To Make Medical Appointments

As of December 16th, over two hundred fifty students had failed to make an appointment for the required annual physical examination. The Medical Director of the Homberg Infirmary wishes to remind these students of the fee of five dollars that will be charged each student for an appointment made after December 22nd.

Alpha Chi Sigma Plans Xmas Party

Alpha Chi Sigma, the national honorary chemical fraternity, will hold a Christmas party on Wednesday, December 19, from 8:30 P.M. to 12, in Pritchett Hall, for the members and their guests.

The evening will be rounded out with dancing, various games, refreshments, and entertainment has been provided. A novelty band called The Village Idiots will play, and one of the members is going to assume the role of Santa Claus to distribute gifts to all present.

Smith In Charge

In charge of the committee for the preparation of the party is Maynard E. Smith, G, and assisting him are Joseph S. Apelman, Jr., 2-46, Loyal D. Asay, 2-47, Robert L. Jacks, and Antonio C. M. Nunes, 2-46.

The fraternity held its initiation banquet last Wednesday night at the Fox and Hounds Club, at 6:30 P.M.

The main speech of the evening was given by Prof. Nicholas A. Milas of the department of Chemistry. Prof. Milas was one of the initiates. His topic was "Anti-Vitamins." The pledge award of $5.00 was conferred on Rodman Jenkins, 2-47.

M.I.T. Catholic Club Holds Xmas Party At Phi Kappa

The M.I.T. Catholic Club held a gala Christmas Party at the Phi Kappa Fraternity House on Wednesday night, from 8:00 P.M. to 1:00 A.M. Only Club members and their dates were invited, and one hundred persons were in attendance. Music was furnished by the Techtonians.

The House was decorated in the Yuletide fashion, tree and all. Refreshments were served, including "Zombesia" Punch.

Santa Claus (Father Fisher, advisor to the Catholic Club) gave presents to all.

Mal Hallett's Orchestra Plays For Dormitory Christmas Dance Tonight

Jimmie Lunceford Features Rhythm, Smooth Harmony

Jimmy Lunceford's orchestra, famous for its smooth rhythm and its fine harmony in both the vocal and instrumental sections, will provide the musical background for the Junior Prom, to be held January 19, at the Hotel Statler.

175 To Attend

It is expected that the hop will be well attended. Approximately 175 couples are to be at the dance. Among the chaperones invited are Dean Thomas P. Pitre of M.I.T., and Captain Buracker and Lt. Commander Canfield of the V-12 Unit.

OPTIONS

Options for the J. P. will be on sale today from 11 A.M. to 2 P.M. and tomorrow from 10 A.M. to 1 P.M. Redemptions and table seating arrangements may be obtained following the Christmas vacation.

Lunceford's formula for success is based on a band as a unit. Instead of featuring soloists, no matter how extraordinary their talents, Jimmie stresses the importance of synchronous orchestration and ensemble playing. The results of this style can be found in the innumerable popularity polls the outfit has won.

Honors Won

Among the honors that have come Jimmie's way in recent years are: first place in Orchestra World's Official Poll for seven years; one of the outstanding bands of all time, according to Song Hits magazine; number one in various polls conducted at the Paramount Theater in New York, and in cities throughout Europe when the group toured the Continent. But the citation that he is especially proud of is the "A" rating from George Simon of Metronome. Only a chosen few have received "A's" from Simon; Bob Crosby, Glenn Miller, Jimmy Dorsey, Duke Ellington, Benny Goodman and Artie Shaw being the select company in which Lunceford is classed.

Chaperones

Chaperones for the dance will be Dean and Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, Dean and Mrs. Thomas P. Pitre, Prof. and Mrs. Leicester F. Hamilton, and Prof. Avery A. Ashdown. Prof. Hamilton is chairman of the Dormitory Board.

Tickets will be on sale in the lobby of Building 10 for the remainder of today. For those who are unable to purchase them then, they will also be sold at the door. Cost is $4.00, including tax.

This dance, in addition to being the twelfth annual Dormitory Christmas dance, is the largest post-war dance held in Walker Memorial to date. It is considered an important step in the return to (Continued on Page 3)

BIG NAME BANDS

It has been quite some time since we have had bands like Glenn Miller and Harry James to play at our formals, but now it seems that the dance committees are getting back to pre-war heights, and we feel everyone welcomes the fact. Now, all we have to do is get the ticket prices down by eliminating some of the taxes and everything will be swell. Let's hope that the Senior Week Committee does as well as the Junior Prom Committee and the quality continues to improve.

MERRY XMAS, BUT HOW ABOUT NEW YEAR'S?

Think back—not too long ago—just to the time when you were putting in your application to come to the Institute. Boy, coming here was something pretty big. You really were eager to absorb all that was being given out here. All you needed to make your life complete was a degree from Tech. But what's the situation today? "I wanna holiday New Year's," comes the wail.

Ever heard that corny old saying, "You can't have your cake and eat it too"? Here we've had a week off the term already; on top of that there has been an Armistice Day and a Thanksgiving Day holiday, not to mention Labor Day and Columbus Day last term. And still people want New Year's off.

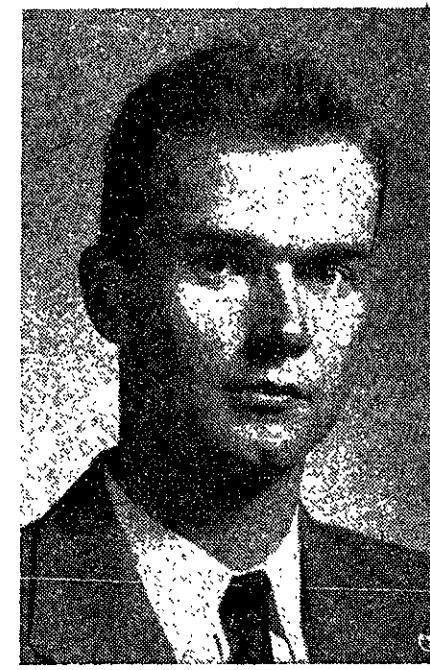

Well, if you have New Year's Eve off, you'll need New Year's Day to get the brown taste out of your mouth, and then, since that's a holiday too, you'll celebrate that night and need the third to recover also. And so on. Above and before all, this is a place of education. You're paying for it, and paying a lot too. It used to be that the students only got one day off for Christmas and none for New Year's.

This is a challenge to you. Have you grown up from high school days yet? Do you realize that you really want to learn? No one's checking up on you. Take New Year's Day off, and the day after—no one will mind—you will be the one to pay for it. This business of yelling for holidays is kid stuff. You're in college now, and pretty soon you'll be in industry and squawking will do you even less good there.

It's often said, "The Navy men will be at class because they have to, and the brownbaggers will be there—but you won't catch me coming." If that is your attitude, maybe you belong somewhere else.

So a couple more days would give you a little more time at home, eh? Don't you realize that your present efforts should be bent to getting through here? The term's short enough as it is. The faculty has only begrudgingly let us have thirty minutes for carol singing—and that is only ten minutes off two classes. Two days is really terrific. You're here to learn something; why don't you get in the swim, instead of pulling against yourself? Let's be in our seats with lessons all prepared the Monday and Tuesday we get back. Take a look into the future; don't be so short-sighted that you want to sacrifice Tech for a few minutes of pleasure.

Baton Society Announces Election Of New Officers

At a recent meeting of the Baton Society, the honorary musical society at Tech, elections of new officers and members were held. Officers elected include: Richard J. Steele, 2-46, president; John A. Gunnarson 2-46, vice-president; Edwin F. Potter, Jr., 2-46; Karnig A. Berberian, 2-46, Treasurer.

New members are: Claude W. Brenner, 2-47, Margaret I. Backer, 2-48, Robert K. Baker, 10-46, Richard C. Davila, 2-48, William M. Siebert, 2-46, David G. Hoag, 2-46, Kenneth A. Avery, 10-47 and Jay S. Salz, 2-47.

It is noteworthy that for the first time at Tech an honor society has elected a co-ed member.

Prof. John B. Wilbur, composer of "Sons of M.I.T." was elected an honorary member of the society at an initiation held on October 5.

Tech Swimmers Lose To Brown 43-32, In First Game Of Season

Meet Remained Undecided Until Final 440 Relay

One of the largest crowds that has ever attended a swimming meet at Tech was present at the Alumni pool last Saturday afternoon to watch Coach Smith's swimming team give Brown men a run for their money, but lose by a final score of 43 to 32. The spectators, however, saw a meet that was well worth their time, for neither team was assured of a victory until the last relay was over.

The first race, a 300-yard medley, was won by Technology and as the medley counted five points, M.I.T. gained an immediate lead over Brown. The 220 free-style saw Foust of Tech take a second and Brown's swimmers finished first and third. The tally at the end of the 220 yard freestyle showed that Tech was leading 8 to 6. Chabot of MIT took a second in the 50 yard freestyle, while Brown again captured a first and third, thus cruising ahead of Tech with a one point lead. Schumaker and Lynes came through with a first and third in the diving events thus boosting Tech into the lead by a count of 17 to 15. In the 100 yard freestyle, which followed, Miskel was a close second, but Brown, again took a first and third. Brown also grabbed the first and third places in the 150 yard backstroke, while Ben Dann took a second for MIT. At the close of the 150 yard backstroke Brown was splashing Tech to the tune of 27 to 23. Tech held Brown under water in the 200 yard breaststroke as

Squash Team Meets Army In 1946 Season Opener

The M.I.T. squash team will open its 1946 collegiate season next Saturday afternoon when they take on the West Point cadets at the University Club in New York City. The Tech Racquetters are hoping to start the season off with a victory, since it was Army which spoiled their perfect record last year.

Three of the five men who faced the cadets in that match will play for the Beavers Saturday. Although the order is still uncertain, it is probable that Captain Roger Sonnabend, who was undefeated last year, will hold down the number one spot. Right behind him will be Bill Pierce, whose only loss in two years came at the hands of Army, and Bob Toperzer. Glenn Dorflinger, a letterman from last year's excellent team, and Pete Wright, up from the Jayvees, should add plenty of strength to the M.I.T. cause.

By virtue of its previous record, Tech is conceded an excellent chance to top the Army. Furthermore the boys have several preliminary matches in the Mass. Squash Racquets Association under their belts. They have shown up to good advantage in these contests against the best players in this region, and an M.I.T. victory is expected.

Following the Army match, the team travels to Dartmouth on January fifth, and will open their home season here against Yale on January 12.

Team 3 Wins Two; Takes Navy Lead

League Delayed By Many Postponements

The cold wave which swept Boston last week also swept the Navy intramural basketball schedule into the ashcan. With twenty men in sick bay, half of the scheduled contests had to be postponed. In the games that were played, team three from the first company scored two wins, while teams twelve and two triumphed over four and eleven respectively.

Team three met stiff resistance, as expected, from team one in their intra-company duel. In fact number one lead at the end of the first quarter, 7-0, but team three rallied behind Sullivan's 8 points and Cahill's two baskets to win 16-12. Marks was tops in a losing cause with 5 points.

Monday night team two handed team four its second setback by a score of 18-12. Young and Vinci played their first game for the winners and sparked them with nine and six points respectively. The same night team twelve won its second victory of the season, 23-11, at the expense of number eleven. Wangberg tossed in three field goals and four from the foul circle to lead the scoring parade with 10 points. Kinkel was close behind with seven points, while Jensen topped the losers with four.

Wednesday night team three put on another classy offensive display to knock off team six, 26-11. Gray tossed in baskets from everywhere on the floor for 12 points, to lead the week's scoring. Ward played well for team six, ringing up eight points.

Next week most of the teams should be at full strength and the league will get under way full blast. The Christmas holidays will mark the halfway point in the season, and the favorites are expected to forge to the front by then.

Tech Basketball Squad Drops First Two Games To Harvard And Tufts

Team Shows Great Promise; Heuchling Craig Pace Beavers

In the opening game of the season for both teams last Saturday night, the Tech quintet was completely outclassed by Harvard to the tune of 42-21.

Harvard's attack, paced by Wyndol Grey, All-America forward at Bowling Green last year, proved to be too much for the Techmen throughout the contest. Grey alone tallied 18 points in his first game as a Naval Reserve at Harvard.

The Tech starting line-up with Hed Heuchling and Chuck Wellard at forwards, Oswald Honkaleto at center and Everett Waldron and Jim Murphy at guards held the highly touted Harvard outfit fairly even throughout the first quarter. In the latter part of the half the greater height and experience of the Harvard team took such a toll that the defense of the tiring Tech players weakened considerably. It was in this second period that Harvard gained its halftime lead of 26-8.

Tech came back refreshed after their mid-game rest, and the result was that Harvard increased its lead by only 3 points in the entire last half. This was partly due to the large number of free throws made by Tech.

Although Wyndol Grey's pivot shots from just outside the free throw alley were the most spectacular part of the Crimson attack, their greatest strength lay in their superior height which enabled them to get almost every rebound and thus control the ball.

For M.I.T. Captain Heuchling played an excellent game as did Jim Craig, who came into the game during the first quarter.

On Wednesday M.I.T. dropped a close one to Tufts for its second loss of the season. After a hard fought contest the Jumbos defeated the Techmen by the score of 54-46. Playing considerably better than they had a few days earlier at Harvard the Tech quintet showed plenty of fight and promise for games to come. Their offense was in full stride with Heuchling garnering 12 points and Craig 14—10 of them in the last half. The greater experience and smoother attack of

Dramashop Selects Cast; Rehearsals For Play Starting

Results of the tryouts for the cast of the play, "The Male Animal," to be presented by the Dramashop, have been announced, and the cast is now in rehearsal for the production which will be presented on January 25 and 26 at 8:30 P.M. in the Peabody Playhouse, Charles Street, Boston.

Handling the leading roles are Claude W. Brenner, 2-47, playing the part of Tommy Turner; Mary R. Gregory, 2-47, as Eileen Turner; Miriam S. Carlson, 2-48, as Patricia Stanley; and Robert F. Hoffman, 2-46, as Joe Ferguson.

The remainder of the cast consists of Wally Myers, as Donald Pearson, 2-48; Dean Frederick Damon, by William M. Siebert, 2-46; Michael Barnes, by Lee Montgomery, 2-48; Mrs. Blanche Damon, by Margaret I. Backer, 2-48; Ed Keller, by Robert W. Connor, 2-46; Myrtle Keller, by Edna E. Muller, 2-48; Nutsy Miller, by Leonard P. Salter, 2-48; and a newspaper reporter, played by Robert P. Abelson, 10-47. The play is under the direction of Professor Dean M. Fuller of the English department.

"The Male Animal," written by James Thurber, and Eliot Nugent, had a very successful run on Broadway. The play takes place in a midwestern university, where the unfortunate hero, Tommy Turner, finds himself in seemingly impossible difficulties due to a misunderstanding regarding an editorial. However, as in the course of all comedies, the difficulties are straightened out, and as the curtain comes down, Tommy is proclaimed a real "Male Animal" by his sweetheart.

The Tufts outfit were their margin of victory.

Veterans of last year's team were looking forward to playing against Ray Evans, who starred for M.I.T. last season and has now been transferred to Tufts. However, they were disappointed when Evans played for only a short time.

Tomorrow night the team tackles Stevens in New York. Then on Wednesday, the 19th of this month, the Techmen will open their home season with Northeastern as their opponent. The game starts at 8:30 in Walker Gym.

Society Of Arts Plans 4 Lectures

Dr. Getting To Discuss "Microwave Radar" Sun.

The Society of Arts science lectures, which were discontinued during the war, will be resumed at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in a winter series which is to begin on Sunday, December 16, at 4:00 P.M. in Huntington Hall.

The first lecture, "Microwaves in Radar," will be given by Prof. Ivan A. Getting of the Department of Electrical Engineering. The lecture will be supplemented by demonstrations illustrating extremely short radio waves and their application to radar.

The second lecture will be given by Prof. John G. Trump, of the same department on Sunday afternoon, January 20, when the subject will be "The Acceleration of Electrons and Positive Ions by High Constant Potentials." Dr. Trump will demonstrate the electrostatic method of generating direct current at a potential of several million volts for the direct acceleration of charged particles. The lecture will illustrate the application of such streams of high energy particles to atomic research, radiation therapy and industrial radiography.

The third lecture on Sunday, March 3, will be on "The Electron Microscope in Biological and Medical Research." The speaker will be Dr. Francis O. Schmitt, head of the Department of Biology. Dr. Schmitt will give demonstrations and illustrations of the use of the electron microscope, including electron stains, surface replicas, stereoscopic micrographs and electron shadowgraphs.

The fourth and final lecture of the winter series will be given on Sunday, March 24. Prof. Gordon S. Brown of the Department of Electrical Engineering will discuss "The Servomechanism — Man's Mechanical Robot." Demonstrations and illustrations of how servomechanisms work are to be given during Dr. Brown's lecture.

Tickets to the series may be obtained free of charge one week before each lecture by applying by mail to the Society of Arts, Room 4-415.

Debating

Phillips Andover and splitting with Northampton High School.

Last night, Harold A. Steiner, 2-47, and L.B. Lea, 2-46, defeated a Boston University team on the topic, Resolved: That the foreign policy of the United States should be directed toward the establishment of free trade among the nations of the world. The Technol-

man about tech

. . . we have found that walking around Boston can be very enlightening if you keep your ears open. A group of girls on the corner of Washington and Boylston streets were deliberating on the merits of several sailors standing nearby. One of them protested, "there aren't enough of them!" only to be squelched by a companion, "that's all right, they'll get a friend."

. . . the students in Professor Struik's classes always get the maximum in understanding. One of them recently have gone a little bit too far, when during an M22 quiz, he came up to the good professor, complained that he couldn't find a particular integral in Burlington's, and asked for some help in looking. It is reported that the professor offered him his glasses.

. . . the cultural level of the institute is rising noticeably in the past months. English classes and g studies have taken on a new sparkle and even the instructors are showing interest. As an excellent example we offer the tale of the budding intellectual who, when asked by his English professor if he had read Farewell to Arms, queried in turn, "by Hemingway?" after being assured by the professor that this was the truth, the budding intellectual returned to the original question, pondered somberly for a few moments (evidently contemplating his misspent youth) and replied in a small voice, "no."

Glee Club To Lead Carols In Building Seven, Dec. 20

For the second consecutive year the M.I.T. Glee Club will lead the Institute in Christmas caroling next Thursday, December 20, in the rotunda of Building 7. Classes will be suspended from 11:45 A.M. to 12:15 A.M. in order that as many students as possible, as well as radiation workers, secretaries, and all others of the Tech Family may participate in the singing.

This tradition was inaugurated last year at this time, and well over a thousand people filling the lobby of the building, and crowding the balconies up to the third floor, attended the caroling.

This year the club will not only lead the general caroling, but will present several numbers in the Christmas spirit, under the direction of Mr. Henry Jackson Warren, as well. Mr. Walter Kidder, tenor, will sing the solo part for the "Wassail Song," and will be accompanied by the glee club. Another selection will be the beautiful "Break Forth, O Beauteous, Heav'nly Light."

Edwin F. Potter, Jr., 2-46, student leader of the club extends a cordial invitation to all Tech personnel to join in the spirit of the season, and attend the gathering.

Outing Club Adopts Corporation Plan, Holds Ski Smoker

The Outing Club conducted a business meeting and ski smoker last Wednesday, December 12, in Room 6-120 at which time the plan for incorporation, as announced in The Tech last week was approved and the new constitution accepted.

Two movies on skiing were shown, after which Mac Johnson, 2-46, manager of the ski team, discussed plans for the team and other skiing under O.C. sponsorship. Johnson will begin working with the seventeen persons interested in the team after Christmas.

Ten persons are going on a stag trip to Manadnock tomorrow and Sunday. They will leave Walker Memorial at 1:15 P.M. Saturday, attend a square dance on Saturday night, and climb Manadnock on Sunday.

Weather Affects Plans

Another trip, either a ski trip or hike, depending on whether or not there is snow, will be held Sunday, December 16. This group will leave Park Street Under at 10:00 A.M.

Al Smith will call at a Simmons O.C. square dance tonight at 8:00 P.M. Tickets for the dance on November 30, which was cancelled because of inclement weather, will be honored at this dance.

Forty army surplus sleeping bags have recently been purchased and will be on sale in the O.C. office in the basement of Walker Memorial starting tonight for $9.00. It is anticipated that more bags and ski equipment will be available in the near future, if there is any demand for them.

The following officers were elected: Rolfe E. Glover, III, 2-46, president; J. Michael Carney, 2-48, secretary; Morgan H. Cooper, treasurer; Alan A. Smith, '42, was elected general manager. This is an alumni position created to afford continuity in the handling of the corporate property.

Lt. Keifer, world's champion backstroke, put on a performance after the 440 yard freestyle, which he gave various imitations of the backstroke as practised other parts of the world. His imitation of Lana Turner doing t backstroke was worthy of eve Techmans' attention. Lt. Keif also gave a demonstration of t backstroke in slow motion and a medley relay by himself. At t request of Coach Smith, he show the proper methods of making turn.

After Lt. Keifer finished his exhibition, the Tech and Brown swimmers came back into the water to decide the meet. If Tech had the final 400 yard relay it would have given them the victory. It turned out, Brown beat Tech the flags by a few yards giving t meet to Brown by a tally of 32.

A summary of the results, ar the swimmers who participated in the various events with their times and order of appearance as following.
